Hey (manager),

We have an account set up for (new hire name) and ready for them to login in either via their phone or a computer. You can send the info below to for them to access the account.

Before they try to login, I would recommend downloading Microsoft Authenticator as when they go to log in, it will have some prompts to get multi-factor authentication set up.

<https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/security/mobile-authenticator-app>

Once Microsoft Authenticator is downloaded, they can go to login via this link:

<https://login.microsoftonline.com/> and input their credentials below:

Email:

Temporary Password:

It will prompt shortly after logging in to reset the password to one they would like to use. And for Authenticator they should be able to follow the prompts to get it set up easily. Please let us know if there are any hiccups or issues that come up but they should be ready to go after following the steps above.

Thanks,
